DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bauer (U.S. Patent 3,168,081). Bauer discloses an engine block assembly with a two-piece structure forming water jackets comprising an upper casting (10) and a lower casting (24).
3. Specifically regarding Claims 1 and 8, the upper casting (1) includes a deck plate (14) with an upper surface contacting the cylinder head and a lower surface contacting the lower casting structure (24) as illustrated in Figure 3 and similarly in Figure 5.
4. Specifically regarding Claims 2-4 and 9-11, the lower casting (24) includes an integral portion for supporting the upper casting (10). As illustrated in Figure 1, an annular seat (34) is provided for the upper casting's shoulder (20). Similarly, Figure 5 illustrates mating tapered surfaces (97, 100).
5. Specifically regarding Claims 5 and 12, the crankcase is illustrated in Figure 1 as being integral with the lower casting (24) portion.
6. Specifically regarding Claims 6 and 13, the deck plate (14) of the upper casting (10) includes "other openings 18 for cooling water".

7. Specifically regarding Claim 7, as illustrated in Figure 3 and 5, the deck plate (14) is held between the cylinder head and cylinder block.
8. Specifically regarding Claim 14, as illustrated in Figure 3, a plurality of bolt holes (16) are provided on the deck plate (14) and threaded holes (46) are provided on the flange (38) of the lower casting (24).

Double Patenting

9. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

10. Claims 1-5 and 8-12 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory double patenting over Claims 1-3 of U. S. Patent No. 7,322,320 since the claims, if allowed, would improperly extend the "right to exclude" already granted in the patent.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the patent and is covered by the patent since the patent and the application are claiming common subject matter, as follows: a cylinder block for mounting a cylinder head thereon, the cylinder block body defining an outer wall of the water jacket and a cylinder liner portion defining an inner wall of the water jacket integrally formed with an upper deck.

Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant was prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application during prosecution of the application which matured into a patent. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.

Conclusion

11. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. U.S Patent 2,817,327 and U.S. Publications 2006/0037566 and 2005/0151328 have been cited to show related engine blocks.
